This isn't the Italy you think you know. Photographer: David De Vleeschauwer

The most magical way to reach this old and delightful pension is on foot (with your luggage towed separately in a speedy 4x4 Fiat Panda). Johanna, the eccentric owner of Briol, has preserved the character of this inn by not adding any modern luxuries—forcing you to focus on the nature outside. With startling Tyrolian mountain peaks on view from your private balcony, that's no problem at all. Rooms from $105 per person, all-inclusive.
